

Focusing our attention on behavior is the key to continuous safety improvement at International Paper. While we cannot ignore unsafe behavior, it is vital that we reinforce safe behavior. By doing so, we take advantage of a significant opportunity to improve safety.

The 1991 safety slogan contest can help employees become more aware of both safe and unsafe acts. Think of all behaviors in safety as you write your 1991 slogan entries.

Vice President
Environment, Health and Safety
Chairman - 1991 Safety Slogan Contest

Contest Rules

1. Contest begins on Friday, June 1, 1990. The deadline for entries is the close of business on Friday, June 29, 1990.
2. Slogan must be five words or fewer.
3. Slogan must be preceded by the words "Safety '91" (Not included in the five words maximum.)
4. You may enter as many slogans as you wish.
5. Only employees of International Paper and its subsidiaries are eligible to enter.
6. Slogan should be catchy, easy to understand and easy to remember, but does not have to rhyme.
7. In the event of duplicate entries, the slogan with the earliest entry date will win.

Three winners (first, second, and third place) will be selected by the International Paper Safety Council, last year's winning slogan writer, plus managers from some of the company's safest locations. Each of the winners will receive a handsome plaque and will be duly recognized. Honorable mention winners will also be recognized.
